When to File Your Claim

There is a time limit. Most insurance companies typically allow up to 2 years to file a claim, but in certain cases as little as 30 days. The sooner a claim is filed, the easier it is for the adjuster to evaluate the storm damage.

Risk of further damage. With high winds or hail damage, the surface of the roofing material is compromised. Often the roof will not leak immediately, but both sun and other storms will eat away the asphalt shingles, resulting in cracks and more extensive and expensive repairs.

Possibility of lost coverage. Insurance companies can deny coverage of additional damage that was caused by water if the compromised roofing surface is not protected. This is considered normal maintenance that is expected of the homeowner.

Response to Damage

- Before filing any claims, let an experienced roofing contractor inspect your roof to determine the extent of the damage.
- If active leaks are found, those can be either temporarily covered up or repaired to prevent any further water damage.
- Periodic roof inspections will enable you to have peace of mind; problems can be found and dealt with before major damage occurs.

So why choose Home Perfect Exteriors?

INTEGRITY

It's not only the finished result but also how you get to the result that matters. We believe that integrity is of utmost importance. Doing things the right way, even if no one sees or knows about it is what separates a good company from a bad one. Integrity is at the core of who we are.

EXPERTISE

Our extensive experience in roofing and working with insurance companies enable us to work on your behalf with your insurance company to ensure you are taken care of well.

ATTENTION TO DETAIL

We personally manage each project to ensure that every small detail is given careful attention in order to bring you the very best result. We document before, during and after stages of the build to ensure top quality workmanship.

HOLISTIC PHILOSOPHY

We consider all aspects of your roof when performing a repair or full replacement. Many roofing companies are willing to compromise the integrity of the final product by overlooking or neglecting minor details. While it may not seem like a big deal, little things can in fact have a huge impact on how long your roof will last. It's the little things that make all the difference.

PERSONALIZED APPROACH

Just as every individual is unique and no two are alike, every roof is unique as well. We want your roof to look exactly like you want it. We will work around your schedule to bring you the most satisfying experience.

OUR MISSION

At Home Perfect Exteriors, we treat our customers as we would treat our own family. Through exceptional work ethics and professionalism, we bring value to our customers that can be seen in everything we do. We are transparent in every aspect of our business. Included with each job is one of the best warranties and it won't cost you a thing. Other companies offer warranties, but read the fine print! We will exceed your expectations in what we do and how we do it. Your satisfaction is our top priority.
